

Society Has Big Holiday Week Ahead

Army-Navy Game Climax to Social Whirl That Will Set New Mark for Thanksgiving Season

Many Debutantes Will Make Bow

Dinners, Dances, Lunches and Teas Crowded in Dazzling Fashion

THANKSGIVING week will be a festive one with the holiday itself given over to private dinners and informal entertainments, while the remaining days of the week will be filled with luncheons, receptions, dinners and dances for the debutantes. Numerous affairs in behalf of some worthy charity will take place. The climax to the week's festivities will come with the Army-Navy football game on Saturday at the Polo Grounds. This will bring to the city the cadets from West Point, the midshipmen from Annapolis, officers of both branches of the service and Federal, state and city officials. Undoubtedly many of the titled foreigners and members of the peace delegations now in this country will be represented at what always proves to be the most spectacular and picturesque sporting event of the year.

In honor of the visitors many dinners and dances will be given on Saturday night, one of the largest being the Naval Ball at the Hotel Commodore. It is a subscription affair, in charge of a committee from the Naval Academy. The commanding officers of the navy and the midshipmen will be in full dress uniform, and the decorations will add splendor to the scene.

Many Entertainments Are Arranged for Debutantes

Among the entertainments arranged for the week in honor of the debutantes is a luncheon on Tuesday for Miss Mary Paul Noyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winchester Noyes, at the Ritz-Carlton. Mr. and Mrs. Noyes will give a dance for their daughter on December 23 at their house, 45 East Sixty-second Street.

On Wednesday Mrs. Seth Bliss Hunt will give a dinner for her debutante daughter, Miss Lucy Hunt, for whom a large luncheon was given at the Colony Club on Friday. Afterward Mrs. Hunt will take her guests to the dance which Mr. and Mrs. W. Harry Douglas are giving at the Ritz-Carlton for their debutante daughter, Miss Jean Douglas. Mrs. Douglas will give a dinner before the dance.

Mrs. Jacques Cartier gives a reception Wednesday afternoon at the Colony Club for her daughter by a former marriage, Miss Dorothy Gardiner.

Mrs. and Mrs. John Sherman Hoyt will give a dance Wednesday night at the Colony Club for Miss Helen Phelps Hoyt, through the courtesy of Mrs. Stokes Halkett.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Adams, of Lawrence, L. I., will give a dinner and dance at the Rockaway Hunting Club Wednesday evening to introduce their daughter, Miss Katherine Adams, also to meet Miss Marion Fenno, of Boston. A reception will be held at their home, Oak Lodge, Ocean Avenue, Thanksgiving Day, from 4 to 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Barclay will introduce their daughter, Miss Rosalie Barclay, at a dance on Friday night at the Short Hills Club. Several dinners will be given before the dance and many guests from this city will motor out to the club.

Mrs. George Dallas Yeomans gives a luncheon on Friday at her home, 2 East Eighty-sixth Street, for her debutante daughter, Miss Mary Stoddard Yeomans. She will give a dance on Saturday, December 31, for her daughter.

Mrs. S. Osgood Pell will give a dance at Sherry's Friday night for her niece, Miss Catherine Pell. Mrs. Dewa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Dewa.

Mrs. Nathaniel V. Reynal will bring out her daughter, Miss Nathalie Reynal, at a tea on November 26, to be held in the ballroom of the Colony Club.

Mrs. David Banks will introduce her daughter, Miss Cecelia Kip Banks and Miss Constance Hatch Banks, at a reception on Friday, December 23, at 1155 Park Avenue. The Misses Banks are direct descendants of Heinrich Kip, who settled here in 1636, when New York was known as New Amsterdam. Their grandfather, Roswell Hatch, is the oldest member of the New York Bar Association, having joined when that organization was founded in 1869.

Mrs. John Henry Hammond will give a dinner on December 21, at 9 East Ninety-first Street, to introduce her second daughter, Miss Adele Sloane Hammond.

Mr. and Mrs. William Truslow Hyde will give a luncheon at the Hotel Ambassador, on December 22, for their debutante daughter, Miss Beatrice I. Hyde.

George T. Bonner will give a dance on the night of December 23, at the ballroom of the Colony Club, for the two debutante granddaughters, Miss Frances Cabot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cabot, and Miss Florence Lockwood, a daughter of Mrs. M. I. Lockwood.

Amateur Cast To Stage Real Melodrama

"Murder on the Half Shell; or, Buckets of Blood" Is Unusual Title of Society Masterpiece

Play To Be Given At Plaza Tuesday

R. H. A. Greig Is Author, Grace Henry Producer; Proceeds for Nursery

"MURDER on the Half Shell; or, Buckets of Blood" sounds blood-curdling enough to satisfy the people of the Stone Age or any other period, but the faint-hearted need have no fear, for the entertainment, in spite of the title, is quite harmless. In fact, it promises to be one of the most humorous and interesting affairs given by members of society in a long time. Just what it is all about will be unfolded on Tuesday night in the ballroom of the Hotel Plaza. The lines and situations as prepared by R. M. A. Greig are said to constitute a "perfect scream." The beneficiary will be the Manhattanville Day and Night Nursery. Miss Grace Henry is the producer. Her work is so well known among members of society and she has presented so many brilliant affairs that the one of Tuesday is an assured success.

$500,000 for Vassar Raised in New York

Former Students Open Specialty Shop Here to Aid Fund for College

The metropolitan committee of the Vassar College salary endowment fund reported at a luncheon Friday at the Cosmopolitan Club that New York had reached about 50 per cent of its quota, or nearly $500,000, toward the $3,000,000 goal. Under the slogan of "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early and Make It a Vassar Christmas," a number of the alumnae have opened a specialty shop at 348 Madison Avenue, known as the Vassar Shop. Christmas gifts from the Pacific, Florida and Japan are specialties. Here you may get any variety of Christmas gift, from candy gifts for the children's stockings to a daisy chain for Sister Sue, who is entered for Vassar as soon as she is old enough. Over the door of the shop is a picture of Matthew Vassar, founder of the college. Each day a different committee of women will be in charge. On Saturdays a bevy of girl students will come down from Vassar to run the shop. The committee for the metropolitan district includes Mrs. Elton H. Hooker, '94; Mrs. William H. Hays, '96; Miss Ruth Adams, '04; Miss Ellen S. Marvin, '08; Mrs. Edward P. Townsend, '02; Mrs. Bernard Pollak, '04; Mrs. William S. Ladd, '08, is chairman; Mrs. William S. Blais Jr., '00, chairman of Westchester and Rockland counties, and Mrs. John T. Gillespie, chairman of northern New Jersey.
